

House Beautiful Designer Room #132

You wonder who will fill the Barcelona chairs,
drink from tulip glasses, eat the peaches
in the starburst bowl. A Calder mobile turns, casting slow shadows on parquet floors.

Tufted cushions hold their breath.
You press a damp finger to the photograph.

Beyond sliding doors, only daffodils,
an improbable sky, a smudge
from your inky hand.

#####